

MAINE VOTERS GIVE 70,000 MAJORITY TO G.O.P.

CONTROL OF ILLINOIS G. O. P. IS BIG ISSUE

Thompson and Lowden Forces
Wind Up Bitter Battle in Primary Tomorrow.

TWO COMPLETE TICKETS Split Between Chicago Mayor and Governor Dates From G. O. P. Conclave.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Control of the republican party in Illinois will be the chief issue of that party at the state primary election tomorrow.

William H. Thompson, mayor of Chicago, and his followers are fighting the faction headed by Governor Frank O. Lowden for domination of the state ticket.

Republicans, democrats and socialists will name candidates for United States senator, governor and other state and local offices tomorrow.

One congressman at large and twenty-first time, E. B. Cooley, of Danville, named in Illinois at the November election.

One feature of the congressional fight is the battle being waged by "Uncle Joe" Cannon for re-nomination in the eighteenth district.

Cannon is a candidate for the twenty-first time, E. B. Cooley, of Danville, is opposing him.

The Lowden and Thompson factions each have a complete slate. William E. McKinley heads the Lowden ticket as candidate for United States senator. He is opposed by Frank L. Smith.

In the race for the nomination for governor on the republican ticket, Len Small, Thompson candidate, is opposing Lieut. Gov. John Olesby, backed by Lowden.

Democrats Have Contest
The democrats here are fighting on for the nomination for governor, although it has not aroused the voters as much as the republican squabble.

James Hamilton Lewis, former democratic whip in the United States senate, is opposed by Barrat O'Hara.

For the democratic nomination for United States senator, Robert E. Burke, the lone democratic delegate to the national convention in 1916 to oppose the re-nomination of President Wilson, is opposed by Peter A. Waller.

The split between the Thompson and Lowden forces was conceived in the bitter fight for the republican presidential nomination.

The Illinois governor hoped to be able to go into the republican national convention with the backing of the solid Illinois delegation. A letter made public during the present campaign, written by the governor to Fred Lundin, Thompson's right hand man, shortly before the selection of the Illinois delegation to the national convention, showed Lowden expected Thompson's support.

When the delegates were selected, Lowden lost a large number of the Chicago contingent. The Thompson forces controlled Chicago. They backed General Leonard Wood in the convention.

After the convention, Thompson's clan strongly entrenched in Chicago set out to control the state. Lowden's backers, embittered by the opposition in the national convention, determined on revenge.

Battle Is Started
Two complete state tickets were put in the field for the republican nomination. Republican leaders quickly lined up behind either Thompson or Lowden and the campaign was on. Both the governor and the mayor took the stump. All political spellbinders available were put into the field.

The campaign wind-up centered in Chicago during the last few days. Loop theaters were hired and meetings were in progress throughout the downtown district. Both Lowden and Thompson addressed large crowds.

Thompson's chief attack was that Lowden had full control of Chicago finances and desired to seize control of state funds.

Chicago republican papers, with the exception of the Hearst publications, are supporting Lowden.

WANT FARMERS TO HOLD WHEAT FOR $3 A BUSHEL

Kansas City, Mo.—Farmers of the spring wheat producing areas of the northwest are to be asked by the growers of winter wheat to hold their crop until it brings $3 a bushel at terminal markets.

Plans for this action were made at a meeting of representative wheat growers here from Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

To Attend Oshkosh Meeting
A number of members of the Appleton White Shrine will go to Oshkosh Thursday evening to attend an initiation arranged by the Oshkosh White Shrine. The ladies are to be guests at a 6:15 o'clock supper. One Appleton candidate will be included in the class to be initiated.

SUFFRAGE IS MADE SURE BY CONNECTICUT

Both Houses of Connecticut Legislature Ratify Amendment This Afternoon.

ALL DOUBT IS REMOVED Legality of Women's Votes in November Election Can- not Be Questioned.

By United Press Leased Wire
Hartford, Conn.—The Connecticut legislature this afternoon ratified the federal suffrage amendment.

The vote in the house was 216 to 11, and in the senate 32 to 6.

Within less than half an hour after the house had adopted the resolution, the senate took similar action.

Respectively of the final result of the struggle resulting from ratification of Tennessee, which was a thirty-sixth and necessary state to pass the amendment, equal suffrage is assured a part of the constitution by Connecticut's action.

Removes All Doubt
Washington—Connecticut's ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment removes all doubt as to the amendment's validity as well as the possibility of the fall election being carried through the courts into the house of representatives, according to the opinion of legal authorities here today.

The Sinn Fein charged today that British officials in Ireland are leagued with certain members of the cabinet to break the organization before parliament re-assembles.

The Freeman's Journal reported the wives of officers and soldiers in Ireland have been ordered to leave immediately. This was interpreted in some quarters as indicating the government foresees a serious uprising in the event of MacSwiney's death.

It was learned today confidential reports from the United States have influenced the decision of the British cabinet to turn the turn the present reports said American sentiment was "torpid," that discussion in the press there was largely on the question of expediency, and that no moral was pointed out.

UP TO WILSON TO FREE PRISONERS

Attorney General Points Out Obstacles Which Stand
in Way of Amnesty.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—A general amnesty for so-called "political prisoners" is entirely up to President Wilson. Attorney General Palmer indicated today to a group of labor leaders and socialists who conferred with him.

The group, which was led by Samuel Gompers, asked Palmer to release 774 persons.

Gompers presented Palmer with a resolution to this effect adopted by the Montreal convention of the American Federation of Labor and Meyer London, former socialist congressman, spoke briefly.

Gompers in his talk praised the "loyalty of labor during the war" and said that the United States alone among civilized nations had not extended a political amnesty.

Palmer stated he would present the Montreal resolution to the president; but he pointed out there were difficulties in the way of an amnesty, since he said many of the prisoners were convicted on counts other than violation of the espionage law.

The department of justice, he said, would act on case on its merits. A second delegation of socialists, headed by James O'Neill and Bertha Mayby, of New York, and George E. Rowser, Jr., of Boston, presented to Palmer a petition which declared that "further imprisonment of political prisoners is not justifiable on the grounds of sound policy or cool morals, but assumed the character of political and class vindictiveness."

BODY OF OLIVE THOMAS WAITS SHIPMENT TO U. S.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris—The body of Olive Thomas, American film star, who died here of poisoning last week, lay in the American church today awaiting shipment to the United States.

Following the autopsy yesterday, some of the vital organs were sent to John Abernethy, noted toxicologist, for examination. He was expected to report soon upon the exact amount and nature of the poison Miss Thomas took.

Memorial Services
London—Memorial services for Olive Thomas, the American movie actress, who died in Paris, were held in the Farm street church here late yesterday.

Only a score of persons, mostly American actors and actresses, attended the services.

Miss Thomas' husband, Jack Pickford, and Owen Moore knelt in a rear pew of the church.

War Mothers' Conference
Des Moines, Ia.—The nation's war mothers members of the National Service Star Legion, gathered here today in annual convention.

The convention opened with an exchange of greetings between Mrs. Robert C. Morris, Toledo, speaking for the service star legion, and Gov. W. T. Harding, speaking on behalf of the state of Iowa.

TOY COMPANY GETS OFF TO GOOD START

Appleton's Newest Industry Will Begin Operations Monday
in Graef Plant.

USE DAY AND NIGHT SHIFTS Toy Company of America Has Enough Orders to Keep It Busy for Months.

By United Press Leased Wire
Appleton—The Sinn Fein government prefers to carry out its own reprisals for the expected death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney, on hunger strike in Brixton prison, rather than entrust them to individuals. It was learned here today.

An order issued by the commander-in-chief of the Irish republican army stated:

"To all officers of the republican army:

"You are directed in the event of the death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, so far as possible, to prevent individuals from acting reprisals and to oppose organized retaliation.

"The republican government believes that Great Britain will welcome an uprising as an opportunity to inflict a death blow on the Irish people.

"Be assured the republican government will carry out just retribution against persons concerned. Witness the fate of those concerned in the death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney. Seven were proven guilty in the republican courts. None is now alive."

The latest bulletin on MacSwiney's condition said it was unchanged.

An Irish boy has brought one of the alleged miraculous bleeding statues of the Virgin from Templemore and has asked permission to place it in MacSwiney's room.

The Sinn Fein charged today that British officials in Ireland are leagued with certain members of the cabinet to break the organization before parliament re-assembles.

The Freeman's Journal reported the wives of officers and soldiers in Ireland have been ordered to leave immediately. This was interpreted in some quarters as indicating the government foresees a serious uprising in the event of MacSwiney's death.

It was learned today confidential reports from the United States have influenced the decision of the British cabinet to turn the turn the present reports said American sentiment was "torpid," that discussion in the press there was largely on the question of expediency, and that no moral was pointed out.

Acroplane Toys
The company's chief product will be called a "Rocker" plane. It is a white enameled toy about 30 inches long and about 14 inches high built to resemble an acroplane, and equipped so it can be used either as a rocker for a child, or can roll around on wheels by a child.

It is called a four-fold toy, because it has a top where the child can be served with food as it sits in the rocker, can be used as a rocker, coaster and a "walker" for the child learning to use its feet.

A new type of collapsible decoy for hunters, a miniature acroplane of combination monoplane and biplane type and a "Draw-Boy" blackboard are also to be manufactured. An assortment of unique small toys of new designs will be added as the plant gets under way. All of the former were designed by Mr. Wiggins except the blackboard, which is the work of Mr. Ellis. Some are already patented and patents are pending on others.

Get Favorable Mention
The Rocker plane was exhibited at several recent toy buyers' exhibits and proved quite popular. It was one of the three new toys selected for mention in Popular Mechanics magazine.

The company has so many orders booked for its products that it will be obliged to start with day and night shifts. Mr. Wiggins said that this will not only be for the holiday rush, but appears to be a permanent arrangement.

About 14,000 square feet of space on the lower floor of the Graef plant will be used by the toy company. This space was formerly used as a saw mill and lumber warehouse. The sawmill has been discontinued and a new lumber shed has been built east of the present factory. A concrete floor was laid and the walls were whitewashed. Woodworking machinery has been installed and is ready for operation.

The lumber will be prepared on the second floor. It will first be sent to the dry kiln and then resawed before it comes to the plant proper. Here it will be cut up and shaped.

The superintendent's office will be located at the east end of the building. About one half of the floor space to the east contains the woodworking machinery. The other half houses an air-tight and dust proof paint room, assembling room, shipping room and lavatories. A Paasche spraying outfit has been installed which will do the work of 15 men in painting the toys by spraying on the paint instead of using a brush.

About 30 men and girls will be employed at the start. The daily capacity of the plant will not be determined until manufacture is under way. A portion of the Graef company's office will be used by the toy company.

COURT REAFFIRMS JAIL SENTENCE FOR JOHNSON

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Federal Judge George Carpenter today renewed the sentence of one year and one day in Leavenworth prison and a fine of $5,000 imposed on Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight, in connection with alleged violation of the Mann act.

The court said it was "making a mistake, it was on the side of leniency."

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS ASTOUNDED BY IMMENSE VOTE

Majority Exceeds Even the Most Hopeful Expectations of Leaders.

FOUGHT ON NATIONAL ISSUE Republicans Aver Victory Is Due to Dissatisfaction With Democrats.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The sweeping republican victory in Maine was as astounding to republican national leaders as it was to the democrats today.

That the state should go republican by a majority of approximately 20,000 over the former high water mark in 1896 of 48,000 was unexpected even by the most optimistic party leaders.

The most extravagant pre-election forecast made by republican state leaders did not go over 40,000.

Although democratic national leaders had entertained no hope of democratic success in Maine, they were not looking for a republican majority of more than 25,000.

Chairman White declined early today to make any comment until he had received further information.

Chairman Will Hays, of the republican committee, lost no time in putting out a statement in which he attributed the result largely to dissatisfaction with the Wilson administration.

"The result," said Hays, "gives the greatest reassurance to all well-wishers of good government, regardless of past party affiliations."

Other republican leaders ascribed the result largely to Governor Cox's alleged failure to "make good" with his charges of a slush fund to "buy the presidency."

The New York World, the only democratic morning paper commenting on the election, under the caption "A bad beating," frankly admitted the severity of the blow.

"The democrats have suffered a severe beating," it said.

"There is no comfort in the result for them. They went into the contest feebly organized and gathered from its conclusion a correspondingly feeble result."

"It appears that about half the potential woman vote has been polled, which should increase the total vote of 1916 by fifty per cent. Yet the total democratic vote is running even with or behind that of 1916, when expectedly it would be running fifty per cent ahead."

Either the newly enfranchised women have been voting the republican ticket rather exclusively or there has been a great defection in the old time vote which is not probable."

EMOTIONAL INSANITY IS MURDER DEFENSE

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland—Temporary annihilation of the will caused by emotional pulse, was the defense advanced in the murder trial of Joseph Bell, charged with killing his wife, when the case opened here today.

Bell was 27, and his wife was 17. The girls' parents objected to the marriage and were taking steps for divorce when Bell met the young woman by appointment and shot her to death when she refused to take up her residence with him.

FIRST BIG C. OF C. EVENT NEXT WEEK

Entire Membership Is Invited to Attend Initial Fall Forum Session.

The Appleton Chamber of Commerce will assert itself and take its first step toward united effort for the city's betterment at its forum meeting Thursday, September 25. This will be the first meeting of the entire membership and Secretary Corbett is sparing no effort to obtain a 100 per cent attendance.

A dinner is to be served in the main dining room of the Hotel Appleton starting at about 6:30 o'clock. Invitations will be mailed to every member within the next few days. They will be asked to support the chamber of commerce in its proposed activities by their presence and by a willingness to lend their support to the program which has been endorsed by the board of directors.

Many of the members have not had opportunity to meet Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary, who came here during the summer months when it was impossible to get the membership together. He will be presented to the meeting and hopes to make the acquaintance of as many as possible. He will probably make a brief address.

The speaker of the evening will be John N. Van der Vries of Chicago, who will explain the work of a chamber of commerce and will tell the benefits of membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, Washington, D. C. Mr. Van der Vries is central district secretary for the national body at Chicago.

The speaker is said to be a national figure in civic work and an able orator. He is in great demand and there fore speaks only in cities where he can address large sized audiences.

FRANK F. BECKER DIES IN KAUKAUNA

Prominent Fox River Valley Banker and Business Man Dead After Long Illness.

Frank F. Becker, 56 years old, president of the First National Bank of Kaukauna, and one of the best known residents of the Fox River valley, died at 6:30 o'clock this morning at his home on Division street in Kaukauna after an illness of six months. Heart trouble and a complication of diseases was given as the cause of death.

Mr. Becker lived in Appleton for 14 years, leaving in 1905 to become cashier of the First National bank of Kaukauna. He became president of that institution in 1916. He was also connected with many other large enterprises.

The decedent was born in Little Falls, N. Y., Dec. 18, 1865 and came to Appleton with his parents in 1875. He attended the public schools here and then was a clerk in the postoffice for two years while G. M. Miller was postmaster. He resigned his government position to go with the Appleton Fur and Leather company where he remained for two years and then entered the employ of the First National bank. After two years he became connected with the Commercial National bank where he remained until 1905 when he went to Kaukauna to become cashier of the First National bank.

Mr. Becker, with his associates formed the Grand Rapids Waterpower and Boom company at Grand Rapids, Minn. In 1904 and in 1901 the Itasca Paper company was organized by these same men. Mr. Becker disposed of his holdings in that concern about 1916. He was president of both companies as long as he was connected with them.

In 1904 Mr. Becker assisted in the organization of the First National bank of Brillion, and was elected its vice president, a position he held until his death.

The decedent was married in 1895 to Miss Lois M. Poor of Dubuque, Iowa. She died in 1915 and in 1917 he married Miss Anne Swenson who survives him. He is also survived by two sons, Deane and Karl; two brothers, William of Grand Rapids, Minn., and Henry of Minneapolis.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the late residence in Kaukauna. The body will be interred in the family lot in Riverside cemetery. Funeral services will be under the auspices of the Kaukauna Masonic lodge.

WANT WORK TO HELP PAY SCHOOL EXPENSE

A number of young men who plan to earn their way at Lawrence college have asked the Appleton Chamber of Commerce to aid them to find spare time employment. Some want to work for room and board only and others want to earn part of their school expenses as well. One or two are chauffeurs and some are skilled in other occupations. Secretary Corbett states that he will be glad to put employers in touch with these young men if they so desire.

FAIR BOOSTERS SLOW TO RESPOND

Chamber of Commerce Asks Better Support for Hortontville Fair.

If the reply cards received by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce from members who plan to attend the Hortontville fair Appleton day, Thursday, are any indication of the actual attendance, then the support from this city will be meager.

Secretary Corbett recently sent a letter to each member asking that he attend. Reply cards were enclosed and 19 have been returned to date. Most of those answering have automobiles and will carry from three to five people. This means that only about 75 people will be in the delegation of a city of nearly 25,000 people. "I feel that every business man in Appleton ought to make it his business to attend the Hortontville fair on Appleton day," said Mr. Corbett. "The merchants especially ought to show their interest. It is the personal contact with the people of this country that will help our city as a trading center. If the head of a firm cannot go himself, he ought to send one of his employees."

Mr. Corbett feels that many plan to go who have not sent in a reply. The chamber of commerce wants a good-sized booster delegation assembled, however, to let the fair officials know that Appleton is with them in support of the fair. The cars are to assemble at the office of the chamber shortly before one o'clock so that the delegation can start promptly on the hour. Hats and bands are to be distributed to all Appleton people who attend. They may be had any time at the chamber office.

Mrs. August Kneuppel has returned from a visit with friends at Mayville.

MOTHERS ENDORSE SCHOOL LUNCHES

Women Declare That Children Thrive Better if They Have Mid-forenoon Lunch.

The milk lunches served last year in the schools were fully as popular in high school as in the grade schools, according to Miss Carrie Morgan, superintendent of schools. She has received the excellent reports of the project and no adverse criticism. Children have gained in weight materially and otherwise improved in general health. Miss Morgan says there has been less absence reported since the introduction of the lunch. So many children go to school mornings without breakfast that they become ravenously hungry before the noon hour. Consequently they are tempted to buy unwholesome food at the recess period. The inauguration of the milk lunch has substituted a wholesome and nutritious habit for a harmful one. Miss Morgan states that she would be happy to see the milk lunches continued. The teachers are willing and eager to do the extra work for the benefit of the pupils.

"It is a perfectly splendid thing for the children," said Mrs. W. S. Van Norwick, when asked what she thought of the milk lunches. "I would be badly disappointed if it was discontinued. I am willing to help more than I did last year in a financial way if it is needed. I observed that my little girl didn't come home as tired after the lunch was introduced."

Mrs. E. E. Rector, 653 Lawe street is highly in favor of the milk lunch. Mrs. Rector says that children who eat a light breakfast can hardly stand the long forenoon session without something to eat. If they have nothing, they come home at noon so hungry that they will eat the first thing they can find as soon as they reach home without waiting for the regular meal, thus spoiling their dinner. Active, growing children need the milk lunch.

"The milk lunches are a real addition," declared Mrs. Gustave Keller. "They are a good thing for the children in every way, from a health standpoint as well as being of educational benefit. To study well, children need nourishment in the mid forenoon." Mrs. Keller says that children are more quiet in school, not as fidgety and restless.

Mrs. E. W. Cooney, 791 Lawrence street says: "I should like to see the milk lunches in every school. I believe many children are acquiring a taste for milk who have refused to drink it at home."

Some mothers have observed that their children come home better natured since the lunches have been introduced, due no doubt to the fact that they are no longer suffering from hunger, because a light breakfast will not last a growing child from seven o'clock until twelve o'clock. Increased efficiency has resulted from the forward step.

DRY SPELL HURTS CROP PROSPECTS

Corn and Potato Prospects Shrink 1,600,000 Bushels in Month.

The Wisconsin corn crop prospect declined 1,600,000 bushels and the potato prospect 1,600,000 bushels during August as a result of the continued dry weather during the early weeks of the month, according to Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Tobacco, spring wheat and hay crops also declined, while oats and barley made substantial increases.

A crop of 66,204,000 bushels of corn is forecast from Sept. 1 condition, as compared to 67,827,000 forecast in 1919 and a five year average of 59,616,000 bushels. Corn in the southern part of the state was relieved by rain during August, but in the western, central and northern sections it was damaged beyond recovery.

The potato crop declined from 31,436,000 bushels on Aug. 1 to 29,821,000 on Sept. 1, compared to 28,199,000 bushels produced last year, and a five year average of 27,283,000. The crop in the northern part of the state suffered most damage.

Condition of cabbage on Sept. 1 was 84 per cent, compared to 90 per cent on Aug. 1, 78 per cent a year ago and a ten year average of 88. Fore cast production is 183,000 tons, compared to 117,000 last year.

In Outagamie county condition of corn on Sept. 1 was 85 per cent and potatoes 75 per cent.

SMALL COUNTRIES WANT MORE VOTES

Scandinavian Countries to Ask
Amendment at First World
League Meeting.

London.—An amendment to the League of Nations covenant, which will give the smaller member nations equal chances of representation on the league council, will be introduced at the first league assembly at Geneva by Norway, Denmark and Sweden. The amendment, one of four which will be brought forward by the Scandinavian nations, has the enthusiastic approval of all the South American republics, and if adopted will secure for the minor members of the league far greater representation than was provided for in the original covenant.

"The object of the amendment," declared a Scandinavian representative of the league, "is to regularize the method of selecting the four non-permanent members of the council by providing that the assembly shall, after the first selections, name a new state each year to serve for a period of four years and not to be subject to re-election for the following period. The suggestion is intended to secure successive representation on the council of a large number of states and at the same time making only one change of membership each year to maintain the necessary continuity of the council."

The other three amendments provide for:

- (1) the strengthening of the position of the assembly by providing for a fixed annual meeting. It also proposes that on the demand of ten members a special assembly meeting can be called at any time by the secretary-general.
- (2) the omission of the word "generally" from the following paragraph in Article Thirteen:

"Disputes as to the interpretation of a treaty as to any question of international law, as to the existence of any fact, which, if established would constitute a breach of any international obligation, or as to the extent and nature of the reparation to be made for any such breach, are decided to be among those which are GENERALLY suitable for submission to arbitration."

The purpose, it was pointed out, of this suggestion is to make the obligation to resort to arbitration more absolute and more precise.

(3) The last amendment concerns the economic blockade. It would permit the council to authorize a state in the vicinity of another state against which the blockade has been enforced, to maintain a certain degree of intercourse with the convenient-breaking state provided that such action is considered by the council to be necessary to prevent the blockaded state from threatening or attacking its neighbor.

CHINA BASES HOPE ON MONEY LEAGUE

Consortium of Four Powers Has Opportunity to Restore Order in Orient.

(By Charles Edward Hogue)

Peking.—Another of China's innumerable civil wars has come to a close and today the most optimistic of the nation's well wishers profess to see a possibility that the new Four-Power Consortium will be able to bring order out of chaos in this stricken country.

The Anfuites, whose militaristic policy disrupted the parliament and emptied the nation's treasury, are out. The Chihliites are in.

Whether the change in administration will mean any betterment of conditions is problematical. On one thing, however, everyone seems agreed: the consortium is China's real hope. If the business men and financiers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan see fit to finance the republic, direct the expenditure of the funds they advance for that purpose and stamp out militarism at the capital there is a good chance that it will have a government that is functioning normally.

Today the nation is as a ship without a rudder. Without a constitution, a parliament or any genuine cohesion between the various provinces this vast country presents a spectacle almost as sad as that of Mexico. But with the overthrow of the Anfuites some hope is seen that the Chihli cabinet can be held in check and a repetition of former abuses prevented.

General Tsao Kun, former military governor of Chihli province, and his chief lieutenant, General Wu Peifu, one of China's ablest military men, believed the time was ripe for the overthrow of the Anfu. They marched on Peking, sweeping aside the Anfu outposts and preparing to besiege the city.

But a seige was unnecessary. General Chang Tso-lin, chief of the Mukden faction, a third party which had theretofore remained neutral, took the field and marched on Peking ostensibly to safeguard the person of the president. But he let it be known that his sympathies were with the Chihliites. Whereupon the Anfuites abdicated.

While the storms of war have been swirling about his, President Hsu, who cannot be called a strong character, has been compelled to sit helplessly by. He will retain his chair as president while an effort is made to strengthen his determination to force the issue.

"The strike is inevitable," according to Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade.

The committee of the "triple alliance" was scheduled to meet tomorrow with executives of the miners' union in a final effort to effect a settlement with the government.

W. E. Carr of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Anna S. Nagle, of Baltimore, spoke on charity organization.

A general meeting of the conference will be held tonight.

TESTIMONIALS

Appleton Pure Milk Co.
I have used your Medicated Stock Salt on one of my horses that showed symptoms of sickness and 3 days after feeding it to her she commenced to live up and gained right along and today is alright. I think your Medicated Stock Salt should be fed to all stock at certain times of the year to put them in good condition.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS FLOCK TO CAPITAL

Washington.—Two thousand members of the veterans of foreign wars were here today for the opening day of the twenty-first encampment of the organization.

Business sessions of the veterans and the ladies auxiliaries were held today.

Louis Brownlow, commissioner of the District of Columbia, welcomed them to the capital.

Tonight the veterans will be entertained at a historical pageant.

BACK DOWN OR FIGHT,
JOHN BULL TELLS MINERS

London.—Following disclosure of a request of Robert Smillie to American miners to strike simultaneously with the British Sept. 25, the government has challenged the miners to "back down or fight."

This action by the head of the British coal miners was said to have put the government on the offensive and strengthened its determination to force the issue.

"The strike is inevitable," according to Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade.

The committee of the "triple alliance" was scheduled to meet tomorrow with executives of the miners' union in a final effort to effect a settlement with the government.

CATHOLICS MEET TO DISCUSS CHARITIES

Washington.—Methods of charity administration were taken up today by the conference of Catholic charities here, the 1,000 delegates dividing into two groups for the discussions.

At a meeting presided over by Robert Riggs, president of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Baltimore, social problems touching on family life were discussed.

W. E. Carr of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Anna S. Nagle, of Baltimore, spoke on charity organization.

MILORD DECIDES TO KEEP CHARLIE

Mrs. Chaplin Wants to Get Possession of Half of Hubby's Wealth.

New York.—The ill fated marital venture of Mrs. Charlie Chaplin seems destined for some more stormy weather.

This time, however, the scene of their trouble shifts to New York. Mrs. Chaplin has changed her mind. She will not give Charlie a divorce. This was the statement by Henry J. Goldsmith, former assistant district attorney, who has been retained by Mrs. Chaplin as her counsel.

"Mrs. Chaplin came east a few weeks ago for a vacation," said Mr. Goldsmith. "She told me that Charlie had made a wreck of her life, so that she had to quit work for several weeks. In view of the fact that her husband had abandoned her and fled the jurisdiction of the California court, where he was seeking a divorce, she has decided to let that action drop and will not give Charlie his freedom.

"It is true," replied Mr. Goldsmith, "to a question, 'that she has retained me to take care of her affairs, and I have advised her accordingly. I have told her that under the law she is entitled to 50 per cent of all of Mr. Chaplin's property, both real and personal, and wherever situated, which came into his possession from the time of their marriage on Oct. 23, 1918. I am informed that Mr. Chaplin is worth about $3,000,000, and that part of his property is in the name of his brother, Sidney."

Mr. Goldsmith added that a conference between counsel of both parties has been arranged for Monday afternoon, at which Charlie Chaplin will be represented by Nathan Burkan.

"Unless a settlement is effected at this conference satisfactory to Mrs. Chaplin," said Mr. Goldsmith, "it will immediately apply for an equitable property, trying out all of Mr. Chaplin's property. I will base my application on the ground that he is a British subject, and has threatened to leave America never to return. This I can substantiate by his statements in public and private."

CRIPPLED GIRL LOCKED IN CELLAR 17 YEARS

By United Press Leased Wire
Joliet, Ill.—Attempts to crowd into the next few years all the education, physical development and play lost by the 19 year old daughter of Mrs. Mary Kolwinke here during her 17 years imprisonment, was planned by science today.

The child, locked in a basement because her mother hated the sight of her crippled body, was found by health authorities. She is unable to walk or talk and her eyes gleam unnaturally from the long accustomed darkness of her prison.

Dr. Sigmond Krumholz, neurologist, and Dr. Bernard Klein, expert physician, interested themselves in the case today. They were doubtful of her recovery.

City health authorities today were completing details of the investigation preparatory to opening prosecution of those responsible.

English Visitor Here Compares Yank Suffragettes With His Own Women.

Washington.—An Englishman, a writer of some consequence, happened into Washington the other day while the air was full of the jubilation of suffragettes over ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment.

"I'd like to see what manner of women these American suffragettes are," said this Englishman. "I've evolved a rather interesting psychological theory as a result of my observation of our English suffragettes. I wonder if your American ones would bear it out."

So he was taken to the headquarters of the National Woman's party here, and presented to Miss Alice Paul, chairman of that party.

"How do you do?" said Miss Paul, inviting him to be seated. "Won't you have a candy?"

"Fancy," said the Englishman afterward. "She asked me to have a candy."

He seemed surprised and not a little taken back. Also, he was eager to tell of what he saw and heard.

So here's his story and his impressions of American suffrage leaders, as contrasted with English ones.

"We were led to a lofty room," he said, "that seemed full of great purple masses and pale sunshine. The purple masses, one soon discovered, were pieces of furniture, arranged most artistically, and all most royally embroidered with rich velvet. The pale sunshine effect, we found, was produced by light filtering through thin golden hangings. The whole room was purple and gold and white, and it was, somehow, very imposing.

"And then we were bowing to a lady who also was enveloped in some pale sunshine stuff like the hangings were made of. She was sitting with her back to the light in a purple chair, and she waved us to other equally purple ones set closely together that filtered sunshine gave her a full view of her visitors' faces, while her own was somewhat shadowed. When I observed that trifling detail I felt myself growing wary. 'We have to deal,' thought I, 'with persons who know their way about. Trifles like that impress one.

"Will you have a candy?" this lady invited us, extending a box of confections. I confess I was surprised. The real appointments of the room had not prepared me for this. Quite candidly, I was flabbergasted, and I fear I mumbled somewhat as I declined the sweets.

"All the while we talked, good-looking young women kept coming in and going out, with telegrams and papers and messages, and Miss Paul quietly disposed of a good deal of routine business without interrupting the flow of conversation. You notice her poise.

"Your American suffragettes, who have had as rough a fight of it in its way as their English sisters, impressed me as quite different, in some respects. If I go making comparisons, I'll get into no end of a row, of course, but I tempted to chance it by just one observation. That is, that your American suffragettes, take them by and large, are a deal younger—well, they're younger, somehow, and a very

AMERICA, DIVORCED FROM POLI-TICS, IS FOR LEAGUE

It is not without significance, indeed great significance, that the seventy-fourth Methodist Episcopal conference of Wisconsin should indorse the league of nations. It will not suffice to say that this action, unanimously taken,
expresses merely the emotional side of religion. On the contrary it denotes the moral conviction of a highly intelligent and substantial body of citizens.
The Methodist church like all other great religious organizations embraces within its membership reliable, upstanding men and women who are the forces of sound progress in their communities. They stand fearlessly and openly as a rule for what they believe to be right. They are led by an able clergy which is giving greater and greater attention to practical problems of the day.

The indorsement of the league of nations by the Methodist conference of Wisconsin is significant because it typifies the moral conscience of the nation, divorced from politics. We know of no body or organization, religious or otherwise, which has spoken upon the league of nations, the motives of which could not be construed as political, that has not squarely and vigorously indorsed it and demanded its ra-tification, in some instances with modifications, in others without. The leading Catholic clergy of the nation are for it, the church for it, regardless of denomination, the universities and colleges are for it, and certainly they represent in the highest degree the moral and intellectual sense of the country.
Organizations representing millions of citizens petitioned the senate to ratify the treaty and covenant, and these petitions and indorsements, including those of notable men in our public life
like Taft, Root, Hughes, Wickersham, Cardinal Gibbons, Eliot, Lowell, the heads of our great universities and colleges, unquestionably speak the heart and conscience of America, divorced
from politics, on this momentous question. The demand for ratification by the American Federation of Labor is of the same character. Will those bent upon wrecking the treaty and the league inform the people of a single non-political organization which has petitioned the senate or the president
not to negotiate the peace they embody? Will they point to opposition anywhere in the United States to the treaty which is not clearly and instantly recognizable as political?

The truth is, and everybody knows it is the truth, the people of the United States are and have been all along overwhelmingly for the treaty and the league of nations, provided only the issue were kept out of politics. Where they seem to have voted against it in isolated localities it is solely because they have been influenced to do so by partisan considerations which weighed
more strongly with them than the morality of the question itself. Peace and the league of nations have no place in politics. They are moral issues of the greatest magnitude, and involved in the turmoil of bitter American partisanship there is no chance whatever that they may be decided as they ought to be and upon their merits. Politics is the only factor which has raised the slightest doubt in the minds of the people as to whether they favor this treaty and this league, fundamentally as drawn. If there had been no politics
the question would have been settled long ago, we would have ratified the treaty and would now be members of the league of nations.

There never has been anything but politics in the opposition, except where criticism has been constructive as in the attitude of statesmen like Root and Hughes, and this fact is thoroughly proven by the hopeless position into which Senator Harding has maneu-vered himself by his attempt to tear

the treaty and league to pieces and set up something that nobody can conceive or describe in their places.

SEEING AMERICA

The American who visits Europe
spends considerable of his time in leisurely looking for the Curfew Bell which did not "ring tonight," or for the cottage by the sea in which David Copperfield wrote "Charles Dickens," or for the site of the Battle of Ballahooley.

He gets a good deal of emotional satisfaction, historical interest and literary stimulus out of these localities and surroundings. They serve him for a long time as pegs upon which to hang his memories, and when he begins
"When I was in—" he has a fairly vivid impression of the dramatic setting of his story. At the very least, he knows he has lingered through The Tower, The Louvre, and the Great Cathedral and has a thrill of interest
when they are mentioned.

But when he tours America, what does he do?

He starts upon a schedule which compels him to motor two or three hundred miles daily, with no time allowed for accidents, meals or looking at anything except the road ahead. He arises at daybreak and dark finds him
rushing round from hotel to hotel seeking a place to pillow his head at five dollars per pillow.

His interest is chiefly centred all day on "Danger! Sharp Curve Ahead."
"Oshgosh, 173 Mi." "Stop at Robbers
Roost Inn." "Kokomozoo. Slow down to 60 miles. Speed Trap Ahead." "Detour to Popopolis."

He never stops to view the house
where Hawthorne wrote the Immortal Declaration, or to visit the hallowed
spot where De Soto first met his wife, Minnie, or to ponder upon the birthplace of John D. Dempsey.

If he is compelled to stop for an hour, while the car is being repaired,
he says "Let's go to the movies." It never occurs to him that America has any shrines or altars, or that anything
historical or romantic, or interesting ever happened this side of the Atlantic.

He rushes through the most enchanting scenes with one eye on the speedometer and the other on the arrow-pointed marker indicating 207
miles to supper and bed.

He reaches home close to nervous prostration and instead of telling what he has seen and felt and visited, he says "Sa-ay! one day we did 350 miles on 15 gallons and we hit the top of every hill at 45 miles per hour. Oh, boy! some vacation!"

TODAY'S POEM

(By Edmund Vance Cooke)

SOMETHING LACKING

I wish I had something to worry about,
Like Solomon, Simpson, and Oliver Prou.
For they love to be blue, and perhaps so would I,
But the blue that I see is the blue of the sky.
And there's so much in nature and so much in art,
And my stomach is working as fine as my heart,
And there's little I've got that I can't do without,
So what in the deuce can I worry about?

I wish I had something to snarl up my nose,
Like Oily and Solly, for they, I suppose,
They feel so snarled in running the folks down
That they really are too good to live in the town.
But the people I meet are as pleasant and nice
As a strawberry tart with a pineapple ice.
So my nose is a cauld, a coward and a churl,
For it just absolutely refuses to snarl.

I wish there were something to stir up my wrath
And sweep all obstructionists out of the path,
For Oily and Solly both tell me I should,
If I ever myself or My Cause come to good.
But when I meet people as clever as I
Whose opinions both Solly and Oily deny,
Well, somehow my calm and benevolent cheer
Refuses to stand on its hind legs and holler!

SMILE AWHILE

WHISKERS AND WISDOM

I have no tears for that my years increase as time is bolting, nor beat and bray because my gray and scanty locks are moulting. I have no rage that in my age I have to gum my ration; I sit behind my whiskers' bill and gain my reputation. For just because I'm full of saws and shrunken in demen-sion, I'm listened to the while I stew and croak my apprehensions. I pose before the grocer's door where it is warm and sunny, and I hold forth in these opinions both Solly and Oily deny. I've never had an extra cent since I was four-and-twenty, but fiscal schemes I spill in rams and listeners are plenty. "The dogs will get this country yet," I say with force and fury and every loaf who stoops to loaf helps constitute my fury. Lads back from France speak of Romance—"things not to be forgotten,"
they look to me for my decree, I sagely mutter,
"Rotten." I pass as judge, and never bute from any stand whatever, and none drink my wise resures but one and all say, "Overy. So say by day,
I long my hair men speak of my astuteness; they all confide real mental there with old age and hirsute beak.

STIMULATION VERSUS WORK

A cigarette fiend is notoriously unreliable and inefficient, therefore many shrewd employers will not have him around the place.
Accurate physiological and psychological measurements of a number of college students made a few years ago by Dr. Bush of Vermont, clearly proved that the immediate effect of a smoke upon a young man not accustomed to smoking or one habituated is not at all what could be called stimulation. It is rather a dope effect, depression. The effect on the brain and nervous system is inhibition. The young man's response to ordinary demands becomes from ten to twenty-five per cent slower after a smoke
than it is when he is not under the influence of tobacco. That accounts to a narcotic influence, and of course we know that tobacco, like alcohol, is narcotic and depressant from first to last, although these drugs are popularly termed "stimulants."

The earlier a boy begins using tobacco the less inclination does he show for participation in wholesome, mainly athletics. The confirmed cigarette fiend, or pipe or cigar fiend—it is immaterial where the tobacco is taken—naturally shuns such participation because his drug afflicts him for successfully competing with his fellows and shames keeps him out of the game. One in a while a youth seems to obtain a certain degree of success in athletics in spite of his tobacco habit, but never anything extraordinary or phenomenal. If such a youth could be persuaded to free himself from the drug, his possibilities would be greatly enlarged, for such success as he has managed to attain with only 75 to 80 per cent efficiency would certainly not suffer a decline
if the young man could enter contests 100 per cent efficient.

This and other forms of so-called stimulation are resorted to as a substitute for muscular exertion or work. Be it grateful work or athletic work or just heartful recreation, the human body craves it and body more or less with a substitute, but you can't must have it or some substitute. You can fool the play shop tricks on yourself very long without serious injury to your health. Muscles are strung on the frame to do work, and they will do work or your health will pay.

I am receiving a lot of anti-tobacco tracts from a lot of salaried reformers who wish to enlist my aid for the "cause." If the people who furnish the funds to hire these professional crusaders would instead
the money rather to provide adequate playgrounds, gymnasiums and swimming pools for the young in city and village, they might deal a telling blow to tobacco.

Muscular exercise is the best antidote for the tobacco craving, and muscular work or play satisfies completely that nervous urge which the idle, pampered youth strives in vain to satisfy with cigarettes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Hips and Abdomens

Please tell me some way to reduce fat about the hips and abdomen without using the arms (my right arm is disabled). (C. G. V.) ANSWER—1. Stand erect, and squat until the knees touch shoulders, then up to starting position.
2. Stand on one foot and, rising slightly on the toes, kick as high as possible backward. Repeat with the opposite side.
3. Lie on the floor and slowly raise both legs to vertical and lower them slowly again, without lift-

Do these exercises regularly night and morning,
and gradually increase the number of times each movement is made, until you can go as high as

Foods Containing Phosphorus

What foods contain phosphate? What fruits and vegetables, and what grains? (A. M.)
ANSWER—Yolk of egg, cheese, milk, graham and entire wheat flour, oatmeal, hominy, beans, dried peas, pears, apples, dried figs, dried prunes, dried peaches, are particularly rich in phosphorus in the form of phosphates. Refined white flour is poor in phosphates, as is the refined corn meal. Polished rice contains little, but unpolished or "brown" rice contains much.

There is hope, as a Late Colleague Said.
I have read with great interest your articles dealing with the care required at menstrual periods, also a communication by a correspondent who violently disagreed with your views. My sister and I have never paid the slightest attention to any particular care or precaution at those times, always bathing as usual, never worrying over wet feet, often going swimming in the lake near which we live. We are not only still alive, but very much so, and we are regarded as unusually healthy, athletic girls. I could add many similar instances among my friends.
Sincerely, (J. S.)

ANSWER—Why, of course. Never mind how the old fogies rave about it. It is cruel to make an old woman stop talking. Just go on and enjoy good health—leave the mollycoddlers to pore over the warnings of the quack doctors, the female tonic exploited, and the old timers of the regular profession.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1893

J. G. Scott of Stephentown was an Appleton visitor.
Charles F. Wilson, of Albany, the felt man, was in Appleton calling on the paper trade.
William M. VanNorwick of Batavia was visiting his brother, J. S. VanNorwick, of Appleton.

President John Day of the Hortenville fair, was in the city in the interest of the county exposition
which was to be held Sept. 24-26.

August Meyer left for Terre Haute, Ind., to resume his studies at the polytechnic institute.

The German Ladies' Aid Society gave a promenade concert and ball the previous evening on which they cleared $100.

John Reick and Miss Lena Fredericks of Greenville were married at the bride's home in Greenville.
They were to reside in Appleton.

The straw wrapping mill of the Kimberly-Carpcompany at Kimberly was being changed into a straw board mill.

Dr. W. H. Chilson returned from the national G.
A. R. encampment at Louisville, Ky.

The Appleton Woolen Mills shipped more of the paper makers felt to their customers than on any previous day in their history.

Creamery butter had increased to twenty-five cents per pound.

The last pulpwood raft of the season arrived at Work Tail Point.
Long in the military department of Lawrence university was begun the previous day.
The Epworth League of the Methodist church
was planning a reception for their new pastor, the Rev. John Lusher, which was to take place the following Tuesday evening.

Green & Schreier were advertising children's school suits at 96 cents, $1.25, $1.45, $1.75, $2 and upwards.
Godehall & Co. was disposing of their entire stock
of furniture at their store on west College avenue.

A Different Country

By Frederic J. Henshaw

Washington, D. C.—A picture of a nation rapidly changing, radically different from what it was a half a century ago and even a quarter of a century ago, is drawn by the Census Bureau as it puts forth the results of the recent decennial count.

The most striking thing in this picture, of course, is the growing preponderance of the city population over that in the country; and the second most striking is the growth of the large cities which have alone swallowed up a fourth of the population.

There will presently be a flood of comment on the facts revealed, and proof of their consequences in them,
and glibly explain them to the last detail. As a matter of fact, no one knows just what the changing character of our population means.

And it is changing not only in the way of its life, but in its human make-up. More and more the United States is becoming a country whose people are of Semitic, Mediterranean and African origin, while the old Nordic strains from England, Germany and Scandinavia are steadily declining.
These facts are well-known to anthropologists.

The America of our grandfathers was a land of blond men or Nordic or so-called Anglo-Saxon blood, who lived outdoors, tilled the soil, herded cattle,
hunted, fished and sailed the seas
from Arctic to Antarctic. The America of our grandsons will be a heavily populated country of short darkskinned men, living for the most part in the most crowded, complicated and enormous cities the world has ever seen, depending on manufacture,
trade and commerce for their living.

Headed Who Knows Where
America is in the midst of transition which is rapid, probably inevitable, and the final results of which no man can foresee. That our institutions will have to undergo great changes to meet these great changes
in our needs almost any fair-minded man could guess. It seems probable that our leading radicals will soon be behind the times, just as the radicals of 25 years ago are being thrown into the discard now.

But when the prophets and sooth-sayers try to go beyond such generalizations as these, and tell us just where the country is heading and what it needs, it is time to add a little salt to the discourse.

Take for example, this amazing growth of the city population. It is predicted that the proportion of Americans who live in cities will this century pass the 50 per cent mark.
That is, heretofore more than half the population has always been rural, living on farms and in villages. Now more than half of it is classed as urban, and lives in the larger towns and cities.
And this change is still going on, and has been rapid and steady. In 1910 only 42.4 per cent of the population
lived in cities and in 1900 only 40.5 per cent.

The common wall raised over this state of affairs in editorial and cartoon is that the people are all leaving the country for the city, that no one wants to stay on the farm any more,
that the food supply is declining and that the cost of living is rising for this reason. The average citizen has come to picture this movement as an exodus of country boys leaving the plow in the furrow and the old folks
weeping on the front porch, hieing hustle to the city with its fleshpots and high wages, leaving the nation to starve.

Farmers Like the Country
The reactionaries and mossbacks
generally treat this movement as a proof of the declining moral stamina

of the nation. Nobody wants to stay on the farm and do a hard day's work. They all think they have to go to the movies every night and wear a stiff collar and work only six hours a day. It's disgusting! (The author of this outburst often works one hour a week clipping coupons off bonds.)
The farmers, on the other hand,
while they paint an equally alarming
picture of this national migration, say it is all the fault of our economic system, and that these young fellows are leaving the farms because they can't make a living there.

The farmers are right in their last contention. You can easily prove that for yourself by going into the country districts anywhere and talking to the people. It is very doubtful whether any more boys leave the farms nowadays for the cities, out of a deliberate preference for urban life, than have always done so. Here and there is a boy born in the country whose greater usefulness and happiness is naturally found in the city, and he usually gets there. But if there is one thing certain about country people, according to me, it is that they like the country. They like the freedom, the old clothes, the outdoor life, the animals. They do not have to work as hard as city folk, despite the popular belief to the contrary. They work hard in harvest time, but in January
they go coon-hunting.

Why They Leave
Why, then, do so many country boys go to the cities? Chiefly because there is no other place for them to go. Go into any old, settled farming
district, such as eastern Maryland,
talk to a farmer who has four boys.
Three of them, he will tell you, are going away. The fourth boy will stay and inherit the old homestead. Why don't the others stay? For several reasons. In the first place, the good farms are not for sale, and they don't want the poor ones. In the second place, to buy unimproved land and put it under cultivation takes more capital than they can command.
So the boys go to New York or to Philadelphia and become automobile mechanics or electricians, or else they go west in search of land. But since west is getting to be a poor expedient,
the greater part of its arable lands
are as crowded as those of the East.
Of its public lands little is left but desert. Just as the East has its swamps and cut-overs which might be made into farms, so the west has its irrigable deserts. But in both cases it will take the strong hand of government to make these lands available.

There is no mystery in this so-called movement of the country population to the cities, nor does it represent any great change in the feeling or viewpoint of the people, or any new restlessness. The simple fact is that there are just so many farms in the United States. Every one of them that will yield a living for hard work is being tilled, and a good many that will not yield a living in the long run are being tilled. The area of cultivation is being extended slowly, which is the only way it can be extended by men working singly, with little capital and upon the least desirable land in the country.

It is true that the population is increasing faster than the food supply.
Nevertheless the food supply is still adequate. Its high price is due almost wholly to the way it is distributed.
The movement from the country to the cities will go on steadily and for a long time. It is inevitable in a nation which is changing from an agricultural basis to a commercial and manufacturing one. But the farms will always be tilled, and as soon as the government gets down to the necessary work of creating more farms,

ONE of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at nine o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Joseph's church when Miss Marie Rechner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Rechner, 924 Eighth street, became the bride of Mark F. Pfalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Pfalter of Milwaukee.

The marriage ceremony was followed by a solemn high mass in which the Rev. Joseph Brachy of Milwaukee was celebrant. He was assisted by the Rev. A. J. Berg, Milwaukee, as deacon and the Rev. E. Michelske as sub-deacon and the Rev. P. Ennitta as master of ceremonies.

The bride was attended by Miss Catherine Rechner, maid of honor, and Miss Meta Pfalter, Milwaukee, as bridesmaid. The groom's attendants were George Rechner and Joseph Palmesha, the latter of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Pfalter was attired in a gown of white tulle, heavily embroidered. Her veil was of tulle and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and Japanese magnolia.

The maid of honor was gowned in pale green organdie with silver trimming and a silver braided train. Her bridesmaid was dressed in orchid organdie with a picture hat to match. A reception for the immediate family and a few friends was held at Hotel Appleton after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Pfalter will leave Tuesday afternoon on a wedding trip to Detroit and Buffalo. They will live in Milwaukee.

were Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Pfalter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pfalter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Anton Pfalter, Edmund Smith, the Rev. John Bott, Joseph Carlin, Robert McElroy of Milwaukee; Mrs. William Reilly of Escanaba, Mich., and Mrs. Joseph Calmes of Clintonville.

Y. M. C. A. Will Not Give Youngsters a Chance to Be Late for School.

Officers and employed staff of the Y. M. C. A. met Monday for the purpose of arranging a program and to decide upon the membership rate for the 1920-21 season. It was decided that the boys' division would be closed each school day of the year from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 1:30 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, because of the fact that it may be the means of causing the boys to be late for school or to be absent altogether.

Membership rates will be as follows: Sustaining membership $20, and up. Business men membership $20. Full membership $15.50. Limited membership $10. Non resident student (9 months) $10. Non resident student (6 months) $5. Older boys, (15 to 18 years) $7. Younger boys, (11 to 14 years) $5. The membership committee will meet at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A.

may eventually give to women rights to which they are entitled but good health, which is the birthright of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depression, symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Blackheads are a confession
Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.
To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.
To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.
Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.
Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

IDENTIFY SLAIN MAN AS ROBBER

Hotel Clerk and Robber Victim Declare Dead Man Was a Bandit.

Fond du Lac, Wis.—Otto Dobe, clerk at Union hotel here, on Monday positively identified the man who was found lying in an auto at Theresa on Sunday as being one of the two men who stopped at the Union hotel on the afternoon of Sept. 3, and who had robbed the Kinkor road-house, seven miles north of this city at midnight on the same date. Kinkor also identified the man as being one of the two. The description of the other man, who phoned from the Boden farm, tallies with the description of the second man at the Union hotel and at the Kinkor place. Kinkor declares the dead man saved his life at the time of the holdup by preventing the shorter man from shooting him. Deputies from this city took an impression of the finger tips Monday noon and have sent them to the war department. They believe the dead man served in the army.

In the car were found several suits of clothes and a quantity of jewelry, all of which had been stolen from the Schoeffe store at Juneau Saturday night.

Two men were arrested Monday morning as suspects in the case, but upon arrival of Theresa officers they were ordered released.

A few moments after the man found in the automobile had died, a man who telephoned from a farmhouse two miles south of Theresa, called to inquire about a companion, who, he said, had been seized together with himself, by some men who were reported to have attempted to burglarize the Theresa bank.

The man who telephoned said he had been carried away in an automobile, and that he had later been thrown out. He announced his intention of returning to Theresa, but failed to appear.

29 HERDS OF CATTLE PASS TUBERCULIN TEST

Madison, Wis.—Dr. James S. Reilly, in charge of that division of work for the state department of agriculture reports that during the month of August his division tested 182 herds of cattle in the state, numbering 4,109 cattle. Twenty-nine herds were added to the accredited list, making a total at this time of 331 herds in this state absolutely free of any trace of tuberculosis. Beside the 331 herds, 908 more have passed one negative test.

Finish Work Tuesday
The board of canvassers which has been busy since Friday noon canvassing the vote at the recent primary election expects to complete its labors Tuesday noon. The work has taken longer than heretofore by reason of the women's vote.

APPLETON PEOPLE PREVENT APPENDICITIS

Many Appleton people are using simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ka. This flushes BOTH upper and lower bowel so completely it removes all foul, accumulated poisons from alimentary canal and prevents appendicitis. Adler-Ka relieves ANY CASE gas on stomach or sour stomach. Often CURES constipation. In one case of chronic stomach trouble ONE bottle produced wonderful results.—F. G. Walker, druggist.

EXPECT 6,000 TO APPLY FOR BONUS

Do Not Look for Decrease in number of War Veteran Students.

Madison.—More than a thousand students who were in the university last year have applied for the educational bonus for next year, said Maj. Edward A. Kitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education. "One hundred new students not receiving the educational bonus at the university last year have applied up to date. Applications are coming in every day on this basis, not only for the university, but for all the educational institutions which had students last year."

The correspondence, however, indicated that there are some ex-service men who are not yet fully advised as to the educational bonus law and hope that they will get immediately in touch with the state board of education or with the local educational bonus committee which is organized in eighty of the cities of the state.

More than 6,000 students were assigned under the educational bonus law last year, and at least that number will be reached this year. The state board of education published recently a list of 200 correspondence men who are open to ex-service men without any cost for instruction. Service men are beginning rapidly to take advantage of this law. Courses are offered in business organization, bookkeeping, cost accounting, auditing, insurance, business law, mechanical drawing, civil, structural and mechanical engineering, pharmacy, surveying, roads and pavements and all the regular subjects offered by the university. Many of these courses may be counted in partial fulfillment of a degree.

A similar list of comprehensive courses are open to ex-service men who organize in their own community a class which will be attended by at least fifteen ex-service men. Last year the West Bend Post of the American legion organized a class under its auspices and was very successful. A wide range of subjects are offered in these classes: Automobile mechanics, business administration, advertising, government, American history, farm accounting, mechanical and architectural drawing, cabinet making, sheet metal work, and other similar subjects.

J. B. Borden, assistant secretary of the state board of education, sent out an urgent request that service men should make immediate application to the state board of education, Madison, Wisconsin, for any one of the educational opportunities offered under the educational bonus law.

JAZZ MUSIC FAILS TO DRAW WOMEN TO POLLS
Birchwood, Wis.—Music, soft and low, syncopated and jazzy, featured primary day in Birchwood. In honor of the occasion of woman's first chance to exercise the right of equal suffrage, a musical program was held at the polling booth where the women voted. A variety of musical selections was played, in spite of the added attractions, however, less than fifty women appeared at the polls. Election day passed very quietly in this city. Mrs. Gladys Bemis was the first woman to vote and Miss Ethel Frank marked the second ballot. Many amusing remarks were made by women who voted Tuesday for the first time. One woman said that because her father had always been a democrat she would have to be the same. As a whole, however, it is said the women voted as wisely as did the male voters. Only two-thirds of the voters, both men and women, voted here.

OLDEST WOMAN VOTES IN PRIMARY TUESDAY

Milwaukee, Wis.—Probably the oldest woman in Wisconsin to cast her ballot in the primaries Tuesday, was Mrs. Louisa K. Thiers, who will be 106 in October. Mrs. Thiers, did not go to the polls but registered her vote by mail.

The little woman, who resembles a dainty fairy godmother, felt that her casting her ballot was one of the greatest privileges of her life, and looks forward to registering her vote at the general election in November.

Miss Eashua Cornwall, West Allis, who attained her one hundredth birthday last spring, was perhaps the second oldest in the state to vote Tuesday. She was driven to the polling station on Seventy-seventh avenue and proudly cast her ballot. Miss Cornwall, who was a friend of Susan B. Anthony, felt that to live to see the fruits of her friend's labors realized was an honor accorded to few.

KAUKAUNA MAN IS GIVEN PROMOTION

Elmer Hayes Is Transferred to Main Office of Union Bag and Paper Co.

Kaukauna.—Elmer Hayes who has been an employee of the Union Bag and Paper Corporation in this city for the last two years, has been promoted to the head office at Sheboygan, Mich., and left Monday to enter upon his new duties. His wife and little son Robert, will join him in a few weeks.

Mrs. C. J. Somers returned Monday from Milwaukee where she attended the funeral of Mr. Somers' great grandmother, Mrs. Covare. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Somers returned Monday from a week's honeymoon trip to the Dells of Wisconsin. They will leave the latter part of the week for Kenosha where they will make their home.

Mrs. Margaret Berens left the last of the week for Dillon, Montana, where she will make an extended visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Forest Banning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nogan, who have spent the last two weeks with relatives here, returned today to their home in Minneapolis.

Miss Olive Nagan left for Chicago and Milwaukee on a business trip. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dena and children autoed to Baraboo Sunday when they visited relatives. They returned by the way of Waukesha where they also visited relatives and friends.

Mrs. Edward Kaphingst left the last of the week for the Mayo Brothers' hospital at Rochester, Minn., where she will receive treatments for several weeks.

FATHER SUES SON FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

Sheboygan, Wis.—Christian Aschenbach, who resides in Schoolhill, Manitowish county, has instituted proceedings against his son, Otto Aschenbach, who resides in the town of Schleswig, to collect damages of $2,045 for alleged breach of contract, and for money paid defendant to purchase a bed.

In the complaint filed the plaintiff alleges that on or about Sept. 8, 1917, the defendant entered into an agreement with the plaintiff whereby the former promised to furnish the father a proper home in his family and to provide him with food, clothing, care, and other necessities for the remainder of plaintiff's life. In consideration for this the father agreed and promised to render services as a laborer on the defendant's farm.

The complaint of the plaintiff states that he remained on the farm until March 25, 1920, when, by reason of ill-treatment, he left his son.

WEST END ENJOYS BUILDING BOOM

Several New Houses and a Saw-mill Are Being Constructed Near Fair Grounds.

West College avenue, in the vicinity of the old fair grounds, is experiencing a boom both in the way of new manufacturing plants and new residences. The city has extended its water mains and sewerage system to the end of the avenue so that all the new residences can be supplied with these modern conveniences.

Ground has just been broken for the new saw mill for Otto E. Knoke which is to be the largest industry so far located in that part of the city. Mr. Knoke came here from Hatley, where he operated a large mill and is no stranger to local lumber dealers who have done business with him for years. It is his intention to erect one of the largest and most modern saw mill plants in this part of the state.

The plant of the Konz Box and Lumber company at the entrance of the old fair grounds is being operated day and night. This has been made necessary by the destruction by fire of the company's branch plant at Seymour last week. By keeping the local plant in continuous operation the owners hope to fill their orders on time until the Seymour plant is rebuilt. The work of cleaning up the debris has already commenced.

J. S. Kufner is excavating for four new residences which he intends to build at the corner of Douglas street and College avenue, two blocks east of the old fair grounds. The residence on the corner lot will be occupied by himself. He has just sold his farm in the town of Harrison and is temporarily making his home over J. McCann's automobile sales rooms in the former Schreier block.

Mr. Kufner is a carpenter and expects to do most of the work himself. He intends to complete the first house if possible before cold weather. The other houses will be either rented or sold.

Martin Boldt and Son, who built two cottages in the same block has sold them to Louis Radtke and John Bauer, Jr. One of them is already occupied, while the other is not yet completed. The firm owns another lot adjoining on which it will erect a third cottage that will be sold when completed.

BADGER EXPRESS RATES ARE BOOSTED THIS WEEK

Madison, Wis.—Express users of Wisconsin will pay an increase of twelve and one-half per cent in rates beginning with this week under the new decision announced by the Railroad Commission on Saturday.

Some time ago the American Railway Express Company filed application for an increase in rates. The Railroad Commission on Saturday announced an increase of twelve and one-half per cent, effective within one day's notice after filing. The new rates therefore go into effect Monday.

COSTS $787,737.73 TO RUN SHEBOYGAN CITY

Sheboygan, Wis.—The cost of city government is mounting with other things and according to the annual report of City Comptroller John Kummer, in which he submitted the annual budget for the coming year, $787,737.73 will be required for the next fiscal year, Jan. 1, 1921 to Dec. 31, 1921, against $575,406.03 during the present year, making a difference of $212,331.67. This does not include state and county taxes.

HUSBAND AND WIFE SUE FOR $15,000 DAMAGES

Marquette, Wis.—Mrs. Tessie Pruska and her husband, John Pruska, have started suits totalling $15,000 against Stanislas Tryskowski.

The woman asked damages for injuries sustained when a gun in the hands of the defendant exploded. The shot entered her foot near the heel, shattering the heel and the ankle. The accident happened Aug. 15, when the parties were assembling at the home of a neighbor in the town of Peshtigo. The woman is still in the hospital in Menominee and has lost the use of the foot.

The husband asks $5,000 for the loss of his wife's services and attention to their two children. The wife is suing for $10,000.

Want to Feel Just Right?

— Take an NR Tonight —

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "hang-over", tired, don't-know-what-a-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or subconsciously clogged, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep feeling fine!

BROOKLYN ALMOST SURE OF PENNANT

Reds Will Have to Show New Burst of Speed to Cop the Title.

(By L. R. Blanchard.)
By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Just a few more such days as he has been enjoying lately and Uncle Robbie of Brooklyn will be in the market for a tack hammer.

The implement will be needed to fasten a national league pennant to a pole in Ebbets field, planted there for just such an emergency as seems to impend.

The Robins slammed the Chicago Cubs yesterday for two victories while the New York Giants won one game and the Cincinnati Reds lost one. The day's events showed the Brooklyns out in front by a margin of five full games.

As the teams squared off today the Robins had fourteen games more to play. An even break in that list would put it up to the Reds to win 14 out of their 21 remaining games to claim the tag.

The Giants would face the job of winning 15 out of 19 games.

The American league still exhibits a hesitancy. Cleveland, New York and Chicago won their games Monday and loped along on practically even terms. Cleveland one decimal ahead of the Tanks. The New Yorkers nine points to the good of the Sox.

CALL FIVE WITNESSES IN GAMBLING PROBE

Chicago.—The Cook county grand jury, considering alleged gambling on baseball games, today was expected to call as witnesses five men arrested during the White Sox-Washington game here yesterday.

The men were taken in a raid by detectives during the fifth inning of the game. Police had been stationed throughout the park to watch for gambling.

BABE'S HOME RUN DEFEATS TIGERS

Bambino Whales Ball Over Fence and Drives Another Man Ahead of Him.

Detroit.—"Babe" Ruth's home run into the center field bleachers with a man on in the sixth inning, his for fourth of the season, won Monday's game for New York from Detroit, 4 to 2.

Indians Win Again
Cleveland.—Cleveland won from Philadelphia on Monday, 3 to 2. Naylor was a puzzle until the fifth when Cleveland bunched three hits and tied the score. The winning run was scored in the sixth on singles by Speaker and Gardner and Perkins' error. Philadelphia could do nothing with Coveleskie after the first inning.

Red Sox Win Again
St. Louis.—Boston made a two straight from St. Louis on Monday by winning a fourteen inning game, 5 to 4. Burwell, who replaced Bayne with the tying run on base in the eighth, weakened in the fourteenth and Myers scored the winning run on his base on balls, singles by Menck and Vitt and Hooper's sacrifice fly.

Felch's Homer Wins
Chicago.—Felch's home run drove into the left field bleachers with the bases filled and two out in the sixth inning proved the turning point in Monday's game and enabled Chicago to defeat Washington, 15 to 5. Six men were arrested in the bleachers at the game charged with gambling.

Grocers to Meet
The Appleton Retail Grocers' association will meet Tuesday night at the South Masonic Hall. Important business will be transacted.

BROOKLYN TAKES TWO FROM CHICAGO

Dodgers Drive the Great Alexander From Slab in First Game Monday.

Brooklyn.—Brooklyn increased its lead in the National league pennant race to five full games on Monday by winning a doubleheader from Chicago 7 to 3 and 7 to 2, while Cincinnati lost to Philadelphia.

Brooklyn virtually knocked Alexander off the slab in the first contest for their victory over the star pitcher this season. The Cubs' rugged fielding in the second game made it easy for the superbas to win.

Reds Lose to Phils
Philadelphia.—Philadelphia broke its losing streak of six straight on Monday by defeating Cincinnati, 6 to 2. Rixey held the visitors helpless and peled a home run into the center field bleachers in the third. Wrightstone's home run over the right field fence and long hits by Rawlings and Meusel likewise featured.

Beans Blank Pirates
Boston.—Scott was in excellent form on Monday, allowing only three hits, and Boston won from Pittsburgh, 3 to 0. Only four of the visitors reached first base. Bigbee getting on when Ford fumbled in the sixth. Rain fell heavily during parts of the game, but play went on uninterrupted.

Giants Whip Cards
New York.—New York shut out St. Louis on Monday, 7 to 0. The Giants went after Dock in the second inning, getting five hits, including a triple and a home run. These with two passes and a sacrifice fly, netted six runs. St. Louis used two regular pitchers, who held the Giants to one run, the result of a double steal by Young and King.

Dedicate Building
Employees and managers of the Appleton Wire Works staged a dance Saturday night in the new addition which has recently built at the factory. The dedication dance was held Wednesday evening and because of the popularity of the first affair a second was planned. Members of the former Thelen orchestra furnished the music.

TRAINING SCHOOL WILL HAVE EXHIBIT AT FAIR

The Outagamie County Training school at Kaukauna will have an exhibit at the Hortonville fair this week, and the office of the county superintendent will have one for the first time in its history. The latter will consist of charts and samples of school work and will have no connection with the regular exhibit of county schools. The educational department promises to be one of the features of the fair.

KINDERGARTEN PUPIL ESCAPES THRU WINDOW

Deciding that home was a more familiar place to be, one little five-year old boy who enrolled at the First ward kindergarten on Monday morning made his escape through an open window. He had taken a seat near the window, as directed by his teacher, but seemed quite frightened at the strange faces and surroundings. Watching his chance, he slipped to the window and climbed out. The teacher discovered the vacant chair and notified the parents, who took him back in the afternoon.

14 VETERANS ON LAWRENCE SQUAD

Coach McChesney Will Have Promising Field of Candidates to Pick From.

With fourteen of last year's gridiron veterans returning and an abundance of new material to choose from, everything points to a successful year of football for Lawrence college.

Football men of former teams who will return to Lawrence this year are: Smith, center; Ketchum and Hunting, guards; McGlynn and Brumm, tackles; Wheeler, end; Olson and Johnson, quarterbacks; Kubis and Basing, fullbacks; Roeder and Pond, fullbacks. These men will undoubtedly constitute the backbone of Lawrence's center.

The new men who have reported to Coach McChesney to date are: Greenough and Wheeler, fullbacks; Daring, Alquist, McDonald and Holmes, ends; Broten, center.

First practice will take place at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Five of the eight games scheduled will be played on the home field and the remainder will be staged on enemy territory.

Lawrence will play St. Norbert College of De Pere, in the first game of the season on the local gridiron, Sept. 25. The team has ten days to prepare for the initial battle. The following week it will clash with the University of Wisconsin at Madison. The remainder of schedule follows:

Oct. 2—Stevens Point at Stevens Point.
Oct. 16—Beloit at Beloit.
Oct. 23—North Western Military College at Appleton.

Oct. 30—Milwaukee School of Engineering at Appleton.
Nov. 13—Carroll at Appleton.
Nov. 20—open date.

TWO PROBATION BOYS TAKE FRENCH LEAVE

Sheboygan, Wis.—Julius Axel and Elmer McWilliams, two youths, who were placed on six months' probation by Circuit Court Judge Kirwan, broke their parole and left for parts unknown. Axel had only two more months and McWilliams three months before their probation term would have expired.

Physician Surprised

"Hearing of some good results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years. It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded."—Druggists Everywhere."

MUST HAVE LICENSES TO CARRY GUN IN WOODS

Superior, Wis.—Trapping licenses have been received at the office of County Clerk W. J. Leader. The licenses enable the trappers to trap skunk, weasels, marten and raccoon. The fee is $1.

It is necessary to have a license to carry a gun in the woods this year, unless the gun is in a case. In former years it was a common practice for a hunter to say that he was hunting wolves, if he was carrying a gun.

"The law this year doesn't provide for carrying a gun," said Mr. Leader today. "A man must have a license if a man has been convicted of a violation of the fish and game laws within the last year he cannot obtain a hunting license. This is in accordance with the new applications for residence hunting license."

A license which has not the signature of the holder is not considered valid.

REALTY TRANSFERS

The deed of the Rowell property on Alton street described as all of lot 4 and the west ten feet of lot 5, block 14, Lawesburg plat, which Harriet E. Rowell and Eliza J. Rowell recently sold to Edna E. Thoreson was recorded at the office of register of deeds Monday morning. One other deed which concerned a tract of land in Kaukauna which Sophia Paschen sold to Charles A. and Mayme Lowery, was also recorded.

EDISONS WANT TO MAKE CLEAN SWEEP

Appleton Has Not Won a Game From New London Club This Season.

With four victories over Appleton already to its credit, New London will come here next Sunday determined to make a clean sweep of the series between the two squads. Appleton has lost every game played with the Edison this year.

The Brandts, however, now have the strongest club in the league and there is every probability that the long spell will be broken. Hank Schultz apparently is getting better with every game and he is given major league support. If New London can defeat the club next Sunday it will be entitled to the distinction of being the best club in the league, despite the fact that Oshkosh has the pennant clinched.

Logan, who has been throwing sterling ball for the phonograph men the greater part of the season, will oppose Schultz on the mound. Logan had one bad inning last Sunday against Kaukauna, giving the enemy seven hits and six runs, but he tightened up after that and only one more marker was scored. New London lost the game, 7 to 5.

Kimberly will play at Menasha next Sunday and Kaukauna will play in Oshkosh. The feature game, however, will be the big battle here.

Word from New London yesterday was to the effect that a large number of rooters will accompany the team here.

DANCE TUESDAY, SEPT. 14, AT WATKINS HALL, LITTLE CHUTE. MUSIC BY MILLS ORCHESTRA.

St. Louis Monday.

HEL-LO-o-o-o PETE:

In two more shakes of a lamb's tail I'd have been between the sheets—but I got taken with another large idea for Camel Cigarette ads that's so bright you can phone 'em to cut the current because you just had your lamps lit!

Tell you, it's a whale of a stunt! Everybody right quiet—and hats off! NOW—far as I know or ever heard, there never has been one of those zippy slogans under that big display name "Camel." I'VE GOT ONE—get me? Put both your ears close to the ground and get the rumble of a broadside like this:

Camel
Once it meant an animal—
now a Cigarette!

Wow, Pete! I'll testify that's a stoneless peach! Spread it like I've dented it in here—and you've uncorked an eyeful! Suppose you'll want to call me Mr. Hammer because I hit the nail on the head!

And, bet real money that if this slogan stuff keeps me awake the rest of the night, I'll wire and offer it to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. before you hit the deck! And, I'll be spending some of the proceeds for noon eats! In the "lang-wage" of Jigger Jones of Joplin, you tell 'em old yacht, you've got the sales spirit!

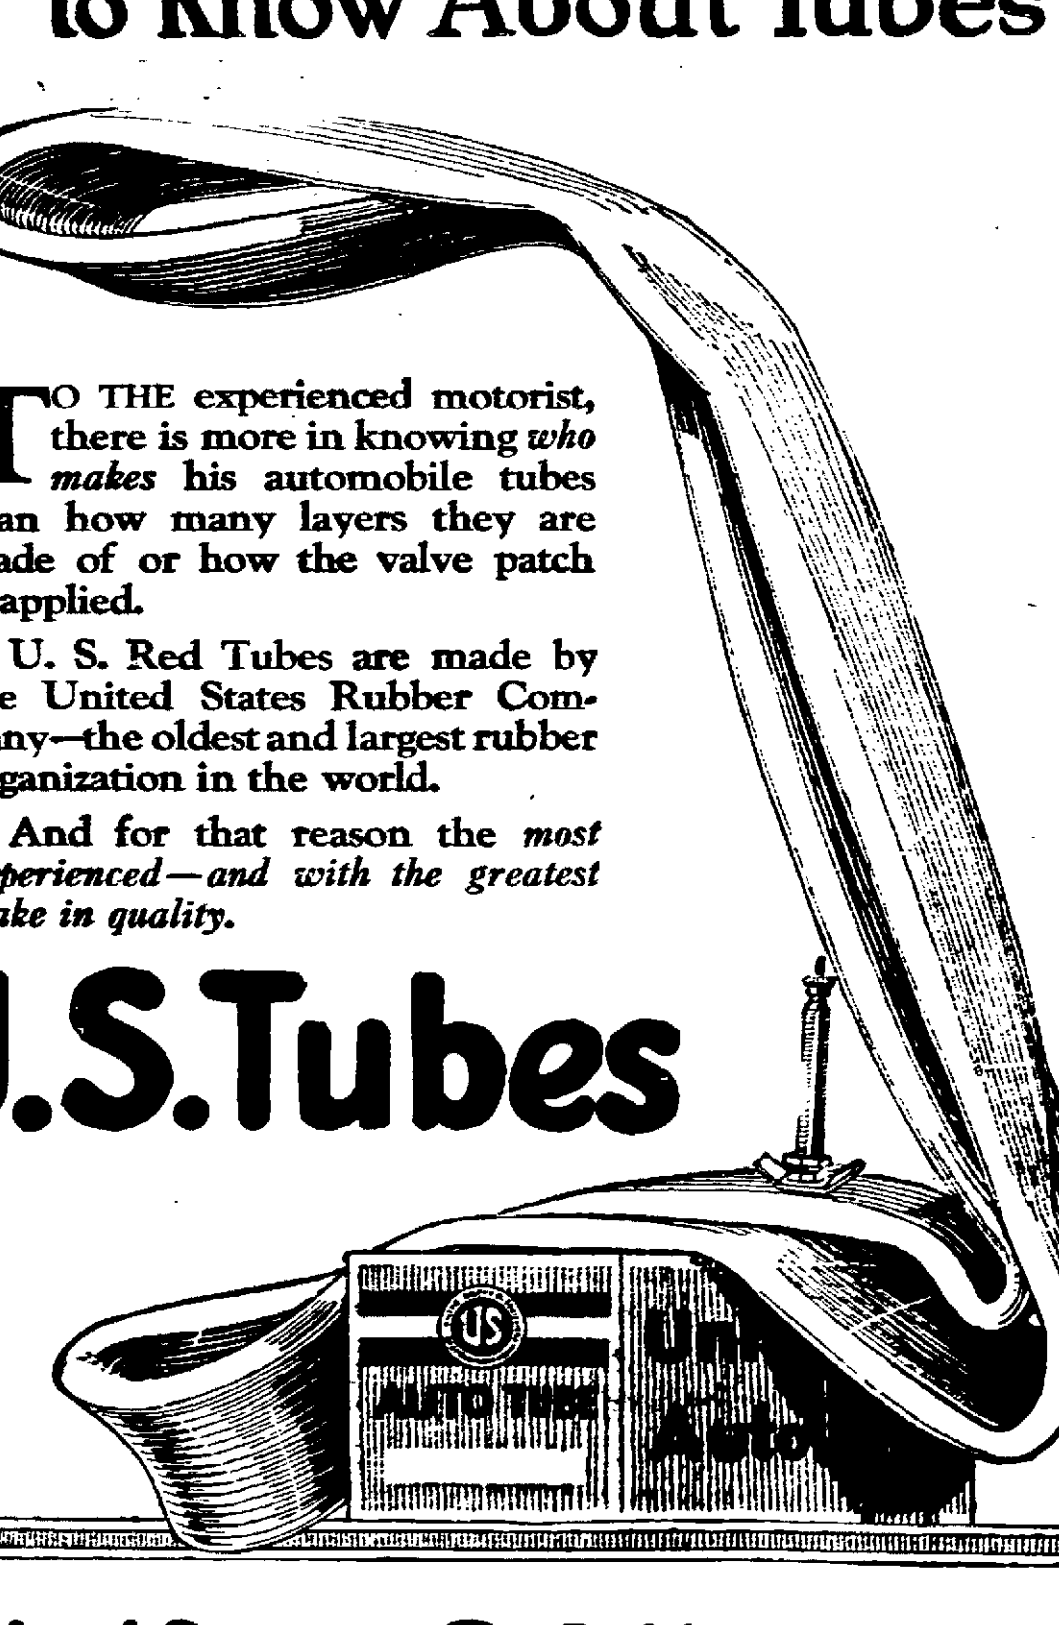

Blowing out of St. Louis at 10.12 tomorrow with a bundle of business. Off for Ohio. Got something on me mind!

Till I get it off—

Shorty.

EX-TRY! EX-TRY!
Just got a wire, I sold 'em that slogan! Pete, eat on me! S.

What do You Need to Know About Tubes

U.S. Tubes

YOUNG SOCIETY WOMAN IS FREED

Beautiful Milwaukee Young Woman Wins Divorce From Elderly Husband.

Milwaukee—Differences that resulted from a discrepancy of nearly a score of years in age were brought out in Mrs. Mona Stradler Schlesinger as the prime cause of the marital trouble which resulted in her being granted a divorce from Henry J. Schlesinger in the trial before Judge L. W. Johnson Monday afternoon.

After obtaining the decree on her charges of cruel and inhuman treatment Mrs. Schlesinger was awarded a money settlement in lieu of alimony which consists of stocks and bonds that total between $200,000 and $300,000.

The custody of the 5 year old son, Robert, was given to Mr. Schlesinger. "We were happy for two years," testified Mrs. Schlesinger. "After that I began to discover that my husband was a man of arbitrary habits and disposition. He objected to anything I did that was not in accord with his dictates."

Their Ideals Differed
Mrs. Schlesinger cited as an example of her husband's demeanor, the fact that he objected to her making friends among people of her own age. She is 23, he 42. At dinners and parties when they attended, she said, he objected to her dancing and frolicking with the younger set, but expected her to restrict herself to his more elderly acquaintances.

I found that our ideals, tastes and standards of life were entirely different," said Mrs. Schlesinger, who, although obviously nervous throughout the ordeal, broke down only once when reciting an instance of her husband's treatment.

GETS YANK IDEAS FOR NEW ZEALAND

J. Baird Thompson, New Zealand Engineer, Is Visiting Relatives Here.

New Zealand expects to add materially to its wonderful dairying interests through the reclamation of its swamp lands. The country is about to undertake the drainage of 300,000 acres which it expects to convert into grazing lands.

One of the active figures in this huge government project is J. Baird Thompson, a cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingold, who is visiting here for several days. He is chief drainage engineer of the lands and survey department of the government of New Zealand.

Mr. Thompson has travelled all through Canada since his arrival in America, and has also spent some time in Washington, D. C., North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin studying drainage methods and equipment. He has authority to purchase $300,000 worth of machinery for his country, and is endeavoring to find out which of that used in America is best suited to New Zealand's needs.

Mr. Thompson said that his government has found it a very profitable procedure to undertake this work. The lands are made ready for occupancy and are then sold to the people at prices ranging from $10 to $50 an acre. Tracts that were sold eight years ago at these prices are now valued at $200 to $550 an acre. Over 500,000 acres have been drained and sold.

The new project includes the reclamation of two shallow lakes, one of 15,000 and another of 50,000 acres. Where peat bogs exist, the water is reaped to make excellent pasturage. Where peat bogs exist, the water is removed and the peat allowed to settle. No attempt is made to convert it into fuel, but its top surface is removed and grass will then grow in abundance. Settlers enter these areas with cattle and soon find themselves prosperous farmers.

Mr. Thompson said that the minister of lands and the prime minister of New Zealand are deeply interested in reclamation work and are lending hearty encouragement. All of the newly reclaimed land, familiarly called "crown land" is being kept for the soldiers, as a contribution to the country's rehabilitation program. They are given very liberal terms of payment.

New Zealand was the first country to send troops overseas in the World War. It placed 100,000 Anzacs on the fighting front and suffered heavy casualties. Those who returned wounded are given vocational training and many methods of rewarding the soldiers have been adopted by the government.

Very little of the unrest and labor troubles found in the United States is present in New Zealand. Mr. Thompson avers. The country is prospering and the cost of living is not as high as in many of the other nations. Gasoline is somewhat costly, however, selling at 58 cents a gallon.

New Zealand is one of the insular possessions of Great Britain and has an area of 105,000 square miles. Its present population is 1,300,000.

The Stage

Appleton Theatre

There are no union rules prohibiting the overworking of a bed—otherwise the clever "The Girl in the Limousine" would never have been produced. A. H. Woods has furnished a great big, beautifully bedecked and canopied bed, conspicuously placed in the center of the stage where all may see. As assurance of the innocuousness of the whole affair, it should be known that the couple are never left alone, and furthermore, that the young man is just as eager as the young woman to escape from the compromising entanglements, and there is always someone present to save the proprietors from collapse. It all comes about through the misadventure of Tony Hamilton, who is held up by a couple of thugs, while on his way to a society party, beaten into unconsciousness and robbed of all his valuables, including his clothes, and is then dumped into the bedroom of a young society woman, once his fiancée, and now the wife of his best friend. When Tony recovers consciousness and realizes where he is he goes on a strenuous hunt for outer wearing apparel, but all he can find is Bertie's bath gown. The company is excellent, cast and keeps the audience in continuous uproar.

MOTORCYCLE RACER IS KILLED IN KENOSHA

Kenosha — Motorcycle racing claimed its first death toll in Kenosha when Omar J. Lee, aged 23 years died at the St. Catherine's hospital as result of injuries received on Sunday when he was thrown from his Sunday motorcycle at the race track at Russell II in the trious. Lee running at 5 miles an hour, ran off the track into a pile of logs. He had his left thigh broken and suffered a fracture at the base of the skull. He developed a cerebral hemorrhage from the last blow which caused his death.

"NIGHT IN PARIS" EVENT AT BRIGHTON WEDNESDAY

Hennepin orchestra of Milwaukee, which has played at Brighton Beach for several weeks will give its engagement Wednesday evening. Manager Maloney has planned, also, a "Night in Paris," for the evening. Parisian courtesies of all kinds will be given to the dancers. It promises to be a carnival party with an end of surprising innovations including feature numbers by the orchestra.

Tent at Fair

The county Woman's Christian Temperance Union will furnish a new tent at the Hortonville fair. It will distribute literature demonstrating the different departments of work. A member of the organization will be in charge to explain the work and greet the men and women who are interested in the work of the union.

Gerald Koehn left Sunday for Madison where he will attend the first session of Wisconsin.

NEED EIGHT MORE MEN FOR THE BAND

Col. T. Byron Beveridge Explains Organization Plans to Local Men.

Colonel T. Byron Beveridge of the Wisconsin National Guard, greeted the Ninth Regiment Band at a regular meeting and rehearsal at band hall, college avenue, Monday night. Colonel Beveridge told about the organization plan for military service which took effect during the world war. Under this plan, military bands will be allowed a maximum enlistment of 21 men, including officers and musicians. The local band has a membership of 23 men which will necessitate recruiting eight more musicians to reach the permitted quota.

A military inspector is expected to visit Appleton in the future to make a survey of the military units in this district. The object will be to ascertain to what extent organization has been carried out and whether sufficient equipment has been received to make it possible for the campaign to respond to a call to arms.

Band members are looking forward to the annual banquet which will be an event of some importance because of the successfully year the organization has enjoyed.

AMUSEMENT MANAGER TO LEAVE HERE THURSDAY

Charles R. Maloney, who is amusement manager of Brighton Beach has made it a popular outing center this summer, closes his season Wednesday and expects to return to his home at Milwaukee Thursday.

Mr. Maloney has spent two months at the beach and has made a reputation for the novel dancing events that were staged. He expects to have two high class orchestras on the road this winter, holding dances in various Wisconsin cities. One orchestra will tour the southern part of the state and another the northern. A traveling carnival dance is to be one of his features.

Shoe Experiments cause Foot Trouble

Many foot troubles are the result of hasty purchases of shoes, tempting in price or appearance, but of poor quality or improperly fitted.

These new shoes tire the feet. They pinch at one place and gap or wrinkle at another. They are not the shape of the feet inside them. Poor fitting shoes are never a bargain at any price.

We learned a good while ago that foot fitting service is the biggest part of the shoe business. That is why we make so much of it.
